Numb. 491.

THE Pennſylvania GAZETTE.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

FROM MAY 4. TO MAY 11. 1738.

LONDON, November 22.

A Letter from Paris, November 11.

WE hear from Rennes, that M. Sequin, Advocate in the Parliament of Bretague, has publiſhed a Pamphlet there, conſiſting of forty four Sheets in Quarto, intitled, The true Secret of Longitude diſcover'd; in which he acquaints the Publick, that he has found out a new and only Method, to be daily put in Practice, for diſcovering the Longitude, with the utmoſt Exactneſs, without having Recourſe to Eclipſes, or being obliged to make uſe of Pendulums, regulated Watches, &c. The Author, who only makes mention of his Secret in that Pamphlet, reſerves the future Diſcovery of it, till a proviſional Recompence ſhall be made him. This Reward he fixes at 60,000 Livres, in Failure of which, he reſolves to keep an eternal Silence upon ſo important a Diſcovery. We ſhall now ſee whether thoſe Princes and Nations, who have been ſo profuſely liberal to that common ſinging Vagabond Farinello, will have publick Spirit and true Generoſity enough to reward a Gentleman, a Man of Letters; who if he can really find out the Longitude, and is ſo modeſt as to demand no more than 60,000 Livres, deſerves to have his Statue in Gold ſet up in every trading Country in Europe.

Jan. 14. By a Letter from Petersbourgh, we have received the following odd Particular, relating to Thamas Kouli Kan, which we have inſerted to ſhew the reſtleſs enterpriſing Genius of that Uſurper.

'The laſt Summer, Thamas Kouli Kan, or as he now is 'ſtiled, the Schach Nadir, being at the Siege of Candahar, 'an Embaſſador arrived at his Camp from the Great Mo'gul, with magnificent Preſents. The Embaſſador met 'with a favourable Reception, but at his Departure Tha'mas Kouli Kan ordered him to declare to the Great Mo'gul, That about two hundred Years ago, Schach Tha'mas I. ſent the Mogul Magun a Succour of twelve thou'ſand Men, whom contrary to Agreement he retained in 'India without ever ſuffering them to return. That ne'vertheleſs Perſia demanded all the Deſcendants of the 'ſaid twelve thouſand Men to be immediately ſent home, 'and that the Great Mogul do reimburſe all the Arrears 'due to the ſaid twelve thouſand Men for two hundred 'Years paſt, in default of which Perſia will endeavour to 'do herſelf Juſtice. But this Demand being thought a 'little too exorbitant, he has ſince diſpatched an Ambaſ'ſador to the Great Mogul, to mitigate his Conditions 'a little, which are now, That if the Mogul will pay 'him one hundred and twenty thouſand Rubles a Year 'for 20 Years, he'll renounce all other Pretenſions upon 'this Head. The Indian Monarch's Anſwer to theſe Pro'poſals is expected with Impatience; if he does not fully 'comply with them, Kouli Kan is reſolved to turn his 'conquering Arms on that Side, to which End he has al'ready ordered Magazines to be formed upon the Road, 'from Candahar to Cabul, the firſt frontier Town of the Mo'guls Territories, which is ten Days March, and from thence 'to the Reſidence of the Great Mogul forty Days more.

An EPITAPH on Her late MAJESTY.

Here lie the Remains of CAROLINE,
Queen Conſort of Great Britain.
Whoſe Virtues
Her Friends when living knew and enjoy'd:
Now dead, Her Foes confeſs and admire.
Her Ambition aſpir'd to Wiſdom,
And attained it:
To Knowledge,
And it filled Her Mind.
Patroneſs of the Wiſe,
And Friend of the Good:
She look'd, and modeſt Merit rais'd its Head:
She ſmil'd, and weeping Woe grew glad.
Religion, plain and ſimple,
[illegible],
Deſpiſing Shew and uſeleſs Pageantry,
Morals clear and refin'd
Dwelt in Her Heart,
And guided all Her Actions.
Virtue She loved, beneath Her Smiles it
flouriſhed;
She frown'd on Vice, and it was put to ſhame.
In fine,
Her Life was a Publick Bleſſing,
Her Death is an univerſal Loſs.

O Reader! if thou doubteſt of theſe Things,
Ask the Cries of the Fatherleſs, they ſhall tell thee;
And the Tears of the Widow ſhall confirm their Truth;
The Sons of Wiſdom, ſhall teſtify of Her,
And the Daughters of Vertue bear Her
Witneſs;
The Voice of the Nation ſhall applaud Her,
And the Heart of the King ſhall ſigh Her Praiſe.

LONDON, Jan. 26. The laſt Letters from Petersburgh confirm, that the Court of Ruſſia has accepted of the Mediation of France, on Condition that it be join'd with that of the two maritime Powers. Whatever has been inſinuated that the Court of Ruſſia is carrying on a private Negociation with the Porte, is entirely groundleſs, ſhe having declar'd in the moſt ſolemn manner, that ſhe will never hearken to any Propoſitions of Peace in which the Emperor was not included.

From Vienna. The Grand Duke of Tuſcany conſtantly aſſiſts at the Conferences held at the Palaces, to deliberate upon the Operations of the approaching Campain: It's reported, that it has been propos'd to penetrate into Walachia, in order to fix the Theatre of War in that Province, and to facilitate the joining of a Body of Ruſſians with the Imperial Imperial Army. This Province is very fertile, and abounds with Forage, ſo that the Army may ſubſiſt there very eaſily. The Siege of Widdin is ſtill much talk'd of.

It's reported, that ſome thouſands of the Militia of Turkiſh Boſnia having paſs'd the Sava upon the Ice, had advanc'd as far as Sabatſch and Ratſcha, had deſtroy'd the Suburbs of theſe two Places, and had committed great Devaſtations in that Neighbourhood; but this News wants Confirmation. Letters from Tranſylvania bring, that the Contagion ſtill prevails there, and ſpreads itſelf more and more; ſo that all Communication has been cut off with twelve Towns on the ſide of Cronſtadt and Hermanſtadt.

From Copenhagen. The King has order'd that the Exorciſms uſed at the Sacrament of Baptiſm amongſt his Subjects, ſhould for the future to be omitted, and not look'd upon as a Lutheran Rite. His Majeſty has likewiſe thought fit to ſuppreſs the Confeſſion-Chairs in the Churches, tho' without hindering thoſe who have a Mind to be confeſs'd from doing it privately. The People, very often leſs attach'd to true Relion than Ceremony, by being miſguided, at firſt made great difficulties of conforming to this Alteration, but have ſince overcome them.

From Genoa. The Maſters of ſeveral Ships arriv'd from the Streights of Gibraltar, report, that there had lately been very great Tempeſts there, inſomuch that ſo great a Number of Veſſels had been oblig'd to put into that Port as had ſcarce ever been ſeen there before, and that at their Departure there were Ships of almoſt all Nations in Europe.

Jan. 30. They write from Vienna, that a Paſſage out of Tacitus to the following Purpoſe has been fix'd on the Gate of the Hotel of Count Seckendorff; Such is the unjuſt Conſequence of War, that many claim Shares in the Honours of its Succeſs, but one only bears the Diſhonour of not ſucceeding therein.

From Paris, that a Gentleman having invited ſome Company to ſup with him, entertain'd his Gueſts amongſt other Things with a Fricaſee prepar'd a la Mode de Paris; but through the Careleſneſs of a naſty French Cook, a Stewpan was made uſe of which was grown over with Verdegreaſe. All who eat of this Diſh, to the Number of 26, had like to have died; but in time Vomits and Antidotes were made uſe of, and ſo they luckily eſcap'd.

Ulm, Feb. 1. O. S. Yeſterday a ſad Accident happen'd in this City, the Particulars of which are as follow. The ſame Day at 8 o'Clock in the Morning, the Burgomaſter, Harſdoffer, went to the Council Hall, and as ſoon as he enter'd, fir'd a Piſtol and kill'd the Burgomaſter de Befferer, who ſate in his uſual Place before the Table; a Thing ſo unexpected ſtruck the other Members with ſuch a Panick, that moſt of them fell from their Seats to the Ground: When M. Harſdoffer had committed this Action, he went to the Round-houſe and deliver'd himſelf a Priſoner, and in the Evening was carried under a ſtrong Guard to the Town Priſon. Nobody can tell what induc'd him to kill his Collegue; yeſterday he ſhew'd not the leaſt Regret at it, but ſaid ſeveral Times, that if it was to be done again, he would do it; To Day he ſeems to be in a better Diſpoſition, and even expreſſes ſome ſorrow for killing the Burgomaſter, and pities his Widow, who is with Child.

Madrid, Feb. 1. The freſheſt Advices from Peru ſay, that ſome Miſſionaries, ſent into the Eaſtern-Country, had converted a great Number of the Inhabitants to the Chriſtian Religion; but that the Natives of that Tract, call'd the Cero de la Sal, continued their Cruelties againſt the Miſſionaries, and had put three Capuchin Friars and two Lay Brethren of the ſame Order to a barbarous Death.

Paris, Feb. 26. We have Advice from Lower Bretagne, that M. Kanaw, an Engliſhman died there lately, aged 109, and that he was the Inventer of that horrible Machine, which the Engliſh made uſe of to burn the whole Town of St. Malo, when 'twas bombarded in the Reign of Lewis XIV.

London, March 4. Laſt Saturday General Oglethorp review'd his Regiment of Foot at Dunſtable and Wobourne, which made a very fine and grand Appearance for a young Regiment. His Excellency gave a very grand Entertainment to the Officers and the neighbouring Gentlemen, and eighteen Barrels of ſtrong Beer to the private Men, and Wine to their Wives, and the ſame concluded with abundance of Joy and Satisfaction. There never was ſuch ſucceſs known in raiſing Recruits for the ſaid Regiment as there has been in this, by Serjeant Caldwell, under the Command of Major Cook, at Birmingham.

We hear the great South-Sea Aſſiento Ship will ſhortly be ſold, the Company having no Proſpect of obtaining a Schedule from the Court of Spain to ſend a Ship to the Spaniſh Weſt-Indies for one while.

We hear that a Letter arrived from the Court of Spain, in anſwer to one ſent from this Court, relating to the Depredations committed upon our Merchants by their Guarda Coſta's, the ſame was communicated laſt Thurſday Night to a numerous Meeting of our Weſt-India Merchants at the Ship Tavern behind the Royal Exchange; and 'tis thought ſome vigorous Meaſures will immediately be taken for obtaining Satisfaction. And Yeſterday the Weſt-India Merchants went to the Parliament Houſe, and deliver'd in their Petition, ſetting forth the Hardſhips they labour under, from the Depredations of the Spaniards, &c. The Petition was deliver'd by Mr. Alderman Perry, one of the City Members, which was well receiv'd, and they are to be heard by themſelves or Counſel on Thurſday ſe'nnight.

'Tis ſaid the next Week ſeveral Men of War will be put into Commiſſion, and that the Guard Ships are order'd to be full mann'd.

A remarkable Cauſe was tried at the King's Bench, between one Connin a Carpenter, Plaintiff, and General Sabine Governor of Gibraltar, Defendant: The Caſe was this; the Carpenter being ſent by the Office of Ordinance to be employ'd there, but no ways on the military Eſtabliſhment, happen'd to quarrel with an Officer of the Garriſon, who call'd the Guard to ſecure him, and complain'd to the Governor, that he had been us'd ill by the Fellow; upon which a Court Marſhal was held for the Tryal of the Man, who was ſentenc'd to receive 300 Laſhes, which was executed in a very ſevere and cruel manner. He not being upon the military Eſtabliſhment, tho't the Governor had no Right to exerciſe military Diſcipline upon him, and brought his Action againſt the General for 10,000 l. Damage. The Tryal laſted from 9 in the Morning till 7 at Night, when the Jury gave him 700 l. Damage beſides Coſts of Suit.

PHILADELPHIA, May 11.

Extract of a private Letter from London, via Boſton, dated March 10. 1751.

"The Merchants have now ſo vigorouſly apply'd to "Parliament for Redreſs againſt the Spaniſh Depredations, "that 'tis generally believ'd there will be Ships of War "fitted out on that Expedition, to demand Satisfaction and "make Repriſals. The 17th is appointed by the Houſe "to go upon it. The Sailors have rais'd their Wages al-"ready upon the Expectation."

BOSTON, May 1.

By a Veſſel from the Bay of Honduras we hear, That as one of our Sloops was entering into the Bay, ſhe was purſued by three large Pettiaugers full of Spaniards, and the Maſter of the Sloop ſeeing they would ſoon be up with him, encouraged his Men to defend themſelves and Veſſel, ſetting before them the wretched Captivity they would ſuffer if taken, and the probability there was of beating off their Enemies, if they behaved as Engliſhmen uſed formerly to do. This Speech ſo encouraged the Men, that they took to their cloſe Quarters, reſolving to defend themſelves to the laſt, and were immediately boarded in three different Places, but they quickly cleared the Deck, and kill'd ſeveral of the Spaniards, who finding ſuch hot Work, fell aſtern, and three of the Rogues had the Impudence to attempt to get in at the Cabbin Windows, but they were ſoon diſpatch'd, and ſent Paſſengers with Charon; which ſo diſheartned the reſt of the Villains, that they all put off from the Sloop, which our brave Fellows obſerving, immediately iſſued out of their Quarters, fired their Swivel Guns into the Pettiaugers, and kill'd them abundance of Men. By this brave and bold Defence, our gallant Countrymen preſerved their Veſſel and their Liberty, which we publiſh with Pleaſure, as well for their Honour, as for the Encouragement of ſuch as are expoſed to the like Aſſaults, by a parcel of ragged and daſtardly Scoundrels, who have no Commiſſions, & are generally very ill armed.
